FIRST FIRE ENGINE ARRIVES

Public School Pupils are Charged for Tuition---Boat Captain Shy on Fractions.

With this issue of the Times-Gazette is resumed the publication of the series of historical and reminiscent sketches of the Pioneer days of this city and San Mateo County, dealing now with the occurances of the year 1862. This general series, which were discontinued for a few weeks, while recounting the history of the early railroad building, will now be continued weekly.

Early in this year politics again became the burning issue, preparations being made for the election of the four additional Supervisors for the county.

On the 29th of March, J. V. Diller, chairman of the old Peoples Nominating Committee, issued a call for a meeting of that committee, to be held April 7th, for the purpose of nominating candidates for a Peoples Ticket. At this meeting, nominations were made as follows: C. Livingston; R. S. Thornton, D. S. Cook and Thomas Johnston: At the same time another meeting was held by adherants of what was then known as the Union Democratic Party and the following were named as candidates: Michael Wolf, Joseph E. Selleck, J. Q. A. Tilton and John Schutts. The campaign, though somewhat fierce, was an extremely short one, the election being April 14th, and ended in the election of all of the candidates of the Union Democrats except Tilton, who was defeated by Cook.

On Thursday evening, May 15th, the members of the Redwood City Fire Company gave a ball at the hall in the courthouse, which was in general use for all public gatherings and amusements, for the benefit of their fund for the purchase of a fire engine. The affair, which was in charge of a committee consisting of J. W. Ackerson, John Ames and G. W. Fox, was a complete success, netting the snug sum of $405.88. This is the exact sum given in the report of the firemen, though no attempt is made to explain the presence of the odd cents at a date when pennies were not thought of in this country, let alone used. So pleased were the firemen over their success, that at a meeting held on May 21st they adopted a set of resolutions making acknowledgement to the public and especially thanking the women of the city for their activity and for the supper which was provided by them.

A rather amusing incident, illustrative of the ever present desire among the average human to get the best of a trade, and the accompanying fear that some one else will get the better of the would-be trader, is related as happening in this city, vouched for by Editor Fox of the Gazette. During the latter part of the month of May a teamster drove into this city with a load of wood and was hailed by the captain of one of the numerous boats then in this port who wished to purchase the load to fill out his cargo. The skipper asked how much wood there was on the wagon, to which the teamster replied that he had a cord and three-eights. There was no dispute as to the market price, but the skipper at once commenced a big growl about the quantity, declaring that the rancher had over estimated the capacity of his wagon and that everybody he had dealt with had managed to get the best of him. After roundly expressing his opinions and berating the teamster, he wound up his tirade by offering to take the load if it was called a cord and a half. To this the teamster replied that he did not care to trade that way, but that as the captain had achieved such a reputation as a grumbler, he would consent to call it a bargain. The skipper at once planked down the money for a cord and a half of wood, and the load was put onto the vessel, the seaman congratulating himself all the while over the saving he supposed he had made by his shrewdness.

At this time in the affairs of the county, the public school system was evidently not as free as it might be, nor as free as we of this day insist that it shall be. Apparently the financial affairs of tee county were not in a condition to offer education to the masses—"without money and without price." At a meeting of the school trustees, a short time before the opening of the term, it was decided to reengage Mrs. Wright as the teacher for the year, and to fix the rate of charge or assessment at $1.00 per month for each scholar. This rate was noted as a reduction from the price which had been in vogue for the previous years. At this time neither the State nor County were over liberal in their support of the public schools, as is shown by the reports of the State and County semi-annual apportionments to the funds, which were published July 26th by County Superintendent H. S. Loveland. According to this report, there was a total of 709 school children in the county, divided among the districts as follows: North San Mateo, 70; San Mateo, 43; Belmont, 28; Redwood City, 106; Searsville, 75; Woodside, 43; Laguna, 55; Halfmoon Bay, 127; Purissima, 110; Union, 50. The total State payment made in July, was $432.49, or at the rate of 61 cents per child. The total county payment to the districts at the same time was $241.91, or 23 cents per child.

William Mooney, the man who created something of an excitement here about a year before this time by repeatedly breaking out of the county jail, where he had been placed to await trial for a brutal assault and robbery, and who finally eluded the officers, was again heard from and was still at his old tricks. Mooney, it appears, had finally drifted into Yuba county and resumed his old method of life, doing a thriving business in the robbery line, and finally landing in the jail at Marysville. As soon as the local officers heard of this they notified the authorities of Yuba County that Mooney was wanted here after they had got through with him and cautioned them that he was a slippery fellow. The caution proved of but little avail, however, for Mooney had been in the jail but a short time before he again managed to make his escape and again droped out of sight of the officers.

On August 16th, the Union Democratic county convention was held in this city for the purpose of placing in nomination a ticket of candidates to be voted for at the general election to be held in September. At this convention there were 30 delegates present and H. A. Schofield acted as chairman and Charles Jones as secretary. The nominees of the convention were as follows: For assemblyman, James G. Denniston; superintendent of schools, William C. Cook; supervisors, first township, A. F. Green and James Byrne; supervisors second township, J. P. Ames and J. E. Selleck; supervisors, third township, A. Teague, M. Wolf and A. Eikerenkotter. Nominations were also made for justices of the peace and constables. Following this convention a call was issued by the citizens of this city for a mass meeting to be held at the court house on the 19th for the purpose of nominating an opposition and non-partisan ticket. At this meeting, which was attended by but a very few persons, J. V. Diller presided and D. W. Helms acted as secretary. The nominees of the meeting were as follows: For assemblyman, Joshua Leavitt; superintendent of schools, S. S. Merrill; supervisors, David S. Cook, A. F. Green, Charles E. Kelley, J. Q. A. Thurber, Owen McGarvey, Albert Dexter and Francisco Sanches. That the proceedings of political conventions were not considered as worthy of publication as news by the local papers of that day is shown by the fact that the proceedings of the Union Democratic convention were published in the advertising columns and evidently paid for at the usual advertising rates. Although the Gazette supported the ticket placed in the field by the mass convention it did not publish the proceedings of that gathering, giving as its reason for not doing so that economy was the watchword of the gathering, and that as no arrangements had been made for the advertising of the meeting, no report would be given. Evidently the ideas of newspaper enterprise were rather obscure in those days. At the election, which resulted in the success of the entire local Union Democratic ticket, a total of 786 votes were cast in the county. Within a week after the election Francisco Sanches, one of the non partisan nominees for supervisor, died after a short illness.

On September 20, 1862, the new fire engine, purchased by the firemen arrived and Redwood City was in possession of its first real fire fighting apparatus. The new engine was described as a Cowing & Co.'s No. 2 Piano Engine, and was said to be a beauty, with a solid mahogany box and brass trimmings. On the following Wednesday the firemen turned out in full uniform and paraded with their new macnine. At the court house they were met by a delegation of ladies and the pupils of the public school and were presented with a handsome silk banner, made of satin trimmed with gold. A short tine before the arrival of the engine, the fire company had been presented by J. V. Diller with a lot on Main street, and on this preparations were made for the erection of a building. This building was completed about the middle of the following November, the work being done under the direction of A. K. Gage, and the cost being entirely borne by subscriptions among the firemen and citizens.

Home Team Wins.

The baseball game Sunday between the Redwoods and John Wielands resulted in a score of 14 to 9 in favor of the home players. The next big event in sporting circles will be the series of games with San Mateo, the first of which will be played in this city August 1st.

WANT LIMIT FOR SALOON DISTRICT

Citizens Petition City Council to Establish Boundaries for Liquor Business.

WILL EXTEND PHELPS STREET

More Improvements for Fire Department---Dumping Place for Garbage Wanted.

A movement looking to the limitation of the district in which saloons will be permitted to operate in this city was brought to the attention of the Council at its meeting last Monday evening. The question came before the meeting, at which all of the Trustees except Beeger were present, in the shape of a petition bearing the signatures of about 75 citizens and taxpayers, asking that an ordinance be passed prohibiting the granting of licenses on any except the following streets: Arguello, from Sixth to Broadway; Broadway, from Arguello to Main; Main, from Holder to Mound; Mound, from Main to the County Road; County Road easterly from Mound to the city limits. Evidently the design of the petitioners was to prevent the spread of the saloon further into the residence district, rather than to disturb existing conditions, as the lines are so drawn as not to interfere with any of the places now in the business. Evidently the Trustees were not inclined to act upon a matter as important as this without giving the subject full consideration, and as soon as Clerk Plump had finished the reading Trustee Hynding moved that the petition be received and filed. Evidently believing this motion equivalent to the granting of the petition, P. A Roussel, who has been representing Mrs. Dugan in her altempts to induce the Council to promise to grant her a license for the St. Charles Hotel, provided she erected an addition beyond the school limit, arrose and began a vehement opposition to the petition, taking the personal ground that the proposed action would result in financial detriment to that particular piece of property, which he claimed was business property and could not be rented for hotel purposes without the saloon adjunct. On behalf of the petitioners, attorney H. A. Kincaid addressed the Council at some length, calling attention to the fact that the petition was a request from a large number of citizens representing a very considerable property interest. He believed a good method of regulat the liquor business was to keep the saloon within a limited district, where it would be easily under public survilance. This proposal was not intended to injure anyone in the business, but to give notice that the saloon was not to be allowed to spread further over the city. Several others spoke along the same lines, among these being J. F. Kerr, Wm. Lasswell and H. Schaberg. Action on the petition was delayed for a time by the adoption of the motion to place the petion on file.

B. Sheehan presented a petition for the issuance to him of a license for a saloon in the Redwood City Bowling Alley, on Broadway. On motion of Rice the application was refered to the committee on public morals.

The agreement with the United Gas & Electric Co., having been approved by Lohman & Co., the electrical engineers for the city, was approved and on motion of Hynding Chairman Merrill was authorized to sign it on behalf of the Board.

Chairman Merrill called attention to the fact that shade trees on Main street interfered with the tops of passing vehicles. On motion of Trustee Hynding, Street Superintendent Dickey was instructed to notify property owners that trees must be trimmed so that the lower branches will be not less than 10 feet above the roadway.

Engineer Newman stated that in preparing the specifications for the improvement of the streets in Dingee Park he had met with an obstacle in the irregularity of Whipple avenue.

Attorney Mansfield was applied to for a solution of the difficulty and considered it doubtful if the road could be straightened as it had been so long in use in its present condition.

It was decided to have a search made of the records and find out as near as possible the boundaries by which the road was laid out.

On motion of Trustee Rice, it was decided to consider proposals for the collection and disposition of garbage at the next meeting. It is expected that several parties will submit propositions, and that one of these will prove acceptable.

On motion of Trustee Rice, the Clerk was instructed to invite proposals for furnishing the city with 400 feet of new hose for the fire department. Trustee Brown was given authority to make needed repairs to the fire houses.

Trustee Hynding revived the proposed extension of Phelps street, by reporting that he had been importuned by a number of citizens, urging that some action be taken. Discussion showed that all of Woodside Resident Dead.

Charles Dearborn, a former well-known resident oof Woodside, passed away in a San Francisco hospital last Friday. Deceased had been ailing for some months but his death was wholely unexpected. His demise is quite a shock to his many friends in the county where he was known so well. He came to Woodside forty years ago and engaged in farming. About ten years ago he moved to Mendocino County to embark in the hotel business which he conducted with some degree of success. The business is now being carried on by his wife. Deceased was in Redwood City recently to see his son Edward, and at that time appeared in the best of spirits. Deceased was a brother of Henry Dearborn of Pescadero. He leaves a wife and son to mourn him. Mr. Dearborn was a native of Maine aged 53 years. He was a man possessed of fine traits and a gentleman of the highest type. The interment took place at Mendocino.

Is Having Big Time.

Charles Josselyn has written to friends here stating that he is having the time of his life in motoring through Europe. Before crossing the "pond" he purchased a $6000 automobile in New York and shipped it ahead. Mr. Josselyn has shown his patriotism in making the purchase of the machine in this country for the American manuacture is superior to foreign made machines. Mr. Josselyn has visited Carlsbad, Hidelberg and Switzerland and finds the roads every where as smooth as glass and kept in splendid condition. He is enthusiastic about the thoroughfares of Europe and says there is real joy in traveling over them in automobiles. Mr. Josselyn will return to this country with a thorough knowledge of road building for he is making a study of them.

Gambling Houses Closed.

Through the efforts of the Sheriff's office gambling in the northern end of the county has been stopped. This week the sheriff and his deputies visited the gambling places and notified the proprietors that they would be arrested if caught violating the law. The notice had a wholesome effect as no gambling has been indulged in for several days. The Sheriff's office has been untiring in its efforts to suppress this vice in the county and it has been successful. Mr. Chatham and Mr. Bartlett have been zealous in their efforts to stop gambling and had to encounter all kinds of obstacles, both from the San Francisco press and from individuals. They feel that they have done their duty, however, and will continue in the good work.

Death of Mrs. Hughes.

Mrs. Delia I. Hughes, wife of the late William Hughes, died at the Guild Hospital in San Mateo Thursday. A short time before she came down from Guerneville to visit friends and suffered a stroke of paralysis which caused her death. Mrs. Hughes' former husband, Rufus Murpry, was a pioneer of the county. Deceased was a native of Chili aged 63 years. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Rue besides several grandchildren and one great grandchild. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the Catholic church at San Mateo at 2 o'clock.

Lineman Injured.

Gus Stalter, the lineman for the United Gas and Electric Co. met with a serious accidoent Thursday at Belmont. He was cutting branches in a tree between that place and Gardner's Sanitarium when he fell a distance of25 feet striking on his back. He was at once removed to the sanitarium where his injuries were treated. Mr. Stalter had three ribs brokn besides suffering internal injuries. It is thought no serious results will occur.

Local Paragraphs.

The meeting of Redwood City Lodge, F. & A. M., this evening will be an occasion of special interest to members of the local Masonic fraternity. The conferring of the third degree will complete a full list of 100 active members on the roll of the Lodge. While many more than this number have been made members of this Lodge, demits to other localities and the calls of death have until now operated to keep the membership below the century number. In honor of the event a banquet will be served after the conferring of the degree.

Virgil Butts a former Redwood City boy but now a deputy tax collector in Santa Rosa, was here during the week calling on old friends. He is a prominent Elk and attended the convention at Los Angeles.

HURLED TO HIS DEATH

Popular Redwood City Young Man Meets With Fatal Accident On Railway Track.

One of the most shocking accidents which has ever occured in Redwood City and which resulted in the death of George West Jr. happened last Sunday evening as the young man was going to work. Mr. West was acting as night watchman at the Soda Works in the southern end of town and was walking along the track toward the works. He was apparently in deep thought as he did not hear the south bound train which was coming behind him. He had been talking to a young lady shortly before and although she called to him, he stepped from a place of comparative safety directly into the path of the oncoming train. He did not get upon the track but was struck in the side by the cylinder box and hurled to the ground.

The train was immediately stopped and a physician who was on the traingave the unfortunate boy every aid but it was seen that there was nochance for his recovery as his skull was fractured, many bones broken and internal injuries sustained. Dr. J. L. Ross was summoned and bore the young man to the home of his parents where every aid was given but he passed away without regaining consciousness at 7 o'clock that evening.

Both Mr. and Mrs. West were away at the time of the accident and the latterf who was at Santa Cruz did not return home until the next day when the news was broken to her. The shock was terrible but she bore up bravely and although the strian upon her was terrible she accompanied the remains of her boy to Mount Carmel Church where a requiem high mass was celebrated after which interement took place in Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park.

George Frederick West was born in Redwood City 27 years ago. He grew to manhood in this city graduating from the local school. He then learned the carpenter's trade and was a skilled mechanic although for the past few months he had not been working at his trade. He was a lovable young fellow and counted his friends by the scores. The funeral took place Wednesday morning and the remains were escorted to their last resting place by the members of the fire department of which he was a member. The profusion of floral offerings bespoke the esteem in which he was held.

The Times-Gazette joins its many friends in extending to Mr. and Mrs. West its heartfelt sympathy.

Flower Show Postponed.

The Menlo Park Horticultural Social off the annual flower show that ciety at a recent meeting decided to was to have taken place the latter part of next October at Redwood City. The reason for this is that a big flower exhibit will take place in San Francisco October 14, 15 and 16 at which many growers from the county will make extensive displays. Then will follow the Portola Festival in the metropolis that will draw lrage crowds from this locality. The members feel that under these conditions the flower show would not be a success this year although many of the gardeners have begun to grow flowers for the exhibit and are confident the display this year would have surpassed that of former years.

Death of Charles M. Kuck.

Mr. Kuck though quite a young man was very successful and had accumulated considerable money. He was heavily interested in oil wells in the south and in real estate. Deceased was a member of Yosemite Parlor, N. S. G. W., but was buried under the auspices of Menlo Parlor. The impressive words of the ritual were spoken by Grand Marshal, James Fitzgerald and James Andrews, past president of the local parlor. Interment was in Union Cemetery Redwood City.. Mr Kuck was a self made man having by his own energies and industry made his way in the world unaided, his parents dying when he was a mere child. Had he been spared he would have become a well known man in his native state.

CITIZENS DISCUSS CITY IMPROVEMENT

Mass Meeting Considers Plans and Material for Street Construction.

BETTER STREETS THE DEMAND

Paving Contractors Fight Shy of Discussion of Merits of Their Plans and Material.

Considering the general importance of the subject, but very few people manifested an interest in the street improvement problem sufficient to attend the mass meeting at the Alhambra Thursday evening, there being not over 50 property owners in attendance, although the meeting was not called to order until considerably after the time announced. While there were several representatives of street contracting concerns in attendance, these, with the single exception of Chadbourne & Co. the firm which recently laid the sample of Oiled Reinforced Concrete macadam on Stafford street, had but little to say either in explanation or advocacy of their pavements. Those who were present manifested a considerable interest in the subject, and while no definite conclusions were arrived at, considerable information was obtained.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman Merrill of the Board of Trustees, who used every effort to secure a full expression of opinion with but little success, and as far as securing public direction in the progecution of this important public work, the Council is as far in the dark as ever. In stating the objects of the gathering, Mr. Merrill remarked that for the past two years the Council had been proceeding solely along the lines of the old ideas of macadam, which modern uses had demonstrated to be inefficient. The main question at this time was as to whether the city should continue along there lines or adopt a slightly more expensive but much more durable method. Since his assumption of public duty as a member of the Council, Mr. Merrill stated that he had given the subject serious consideration and at this time was personally in favor of the adoption of modern methods though officially, he would be guided by the expression of public opinion. He had hoped that all of the Trustees would be present at the meeting, but for some reason Trustees Beeger Brown and Rice were unable to attend, leaving the care of the matter to himself and Trustee Hynding. Mr. Merrill expressed the opinion that the greatest difficulty in any character of pavement was the practical inability to secure a perfectly even and substantial subgrade. To obviate this, the only plan was to secure a pavement with a rigid and dependable base to lay on the subgrade. For this reason he was inclined to favor the adoption of the reinforced concrete. Were the entire streets of the city laid with ordinary macadam the cost of watering and repairs would not be less than $300 per month, an amount which the city could not pay under its present available tax rate, which should be lowered rather thanincreased. As to the first cost it was now evident that ordinary macadam could not be laid for less than eight cents per square foot, while the Oiled Reinforced Concrete would not cost to exceed 12 cents, and would obviate almost entirely the cost of maintenance.

City Marshal Christ was a strong advocate of good streets. He considered good streets one of the best advertisments of any city and a special necessity here. The old methods had proved a failure and he wanted the best regardless of cost. In answer to this W. J. Plump opposed the construction of expensive streets in purely residence districts, as the cost would be in excess of the productive value of the property. Where there was no heavy travel, and but little automobile use, in his opinion the macadam street would be sufficiently durable.

F.K. Towne wanted a street that would not alone be durable but that would be cleanly in the winter time and that could be easily and economically kept up. This he did not believe could be secured under the old method and he would favor something better even at a considerably increased cost. A. H. Lanfear was a strong advocate of the Asphalt street, which he had known to withstand years of hard wear. This though he addmitted would cost considerably more than that of the other methods discussed..

Alexander Hess stated that recently he had made a visit to Sacramento, Portland, Tacoma and Seattle where he had given considerable attention to street building. He was of the opinion that, considering cost, Sacramento had the best streets. These were built on a modification of the petrolithic plan, using a heavy rock foundation, into which the heavy oil was introduced, saturating to the base, and upon this screenings and oil were laid as a top dressing. He thought the council should investigate this method before proceeding.

D. R. Stafford, while expressing himself as in favor of good streets, was inclined to the opinion that holders of outside property should not be put to too great an expense. We have had but little experience with the reinforced concrete as a street foundation, and he would favor using this as an experiment by laying near the business section, using a block at each approach to the present asphalt streets. For the outside streets he considered that the macadam would suffice for the present until the character of other materials had been fully established.

Trustee Hynding stated that during a recent visit to Watsonville he had carefully investigated the streets of that city, which he found to be in excellent condition. These streets were constructed of a well laid macadam, finished with a liberal use of oil. The cost was not materially in excess of the streets constructed in this city in the past, and in his opinion would be ample for many years.

A.D. Walsh believed that if we could get a better street for 12 cents than for 8 it would be economy in the long run. He had investigated the reinforced concrete foundation and was inclined to favor the use of that material. H. A. Kincaid favored the best streets, but insisted that it would not be a wise policy to lay these streets until after the work of making sewer, water and gas connections has been completed. He was also of the opinion that another matter of importance was the construction of more bridges over the creek, as by this means much of the heavy hauling form the factory districts could be diverted from the central streets. The objection that this stream was navigable and could not be obstructed might easily be overcome.

After the citizens interested had been givn full opportunity to express their opinions, Mr. Merrill offered the representatives of the paving contractors present an opportunity to present their claims. The only one to respond to this invitation was E. M. Chadbourne, of the firm laying the oiled reinforced concrete macadam After referring to the sample of this work laid on Stafford street, he stated that this street, laid with a foundation of four inches of concrete could be completed for an entire cost of not to exceed 12 cepts per square foot, or if laid with a three-inch foundation, which he considered sufficient for residence streets, for not to exceed 10 cents per foot. While the method of reinforcement was new, concrete had been in use for foundations of streets for years and had proven successful. The reinforcement was designed to provide against the inequalities necessarilyy showing in ordinary subgrades

In dismissing the meeting, Mayor Merrill stated that while he desired public expressions at all times, and would be guided by this, he favored the plan of reinforced concrete, especially in the central streets. The Trustees would not act hastily in the matter, and her felt convinced that all would be guided by the desires of the peoople who must bear the cost.

PROMISE GOOD GAMES

San Mateo and Redwood City Ball Clubs Preparing for Some Special Stunts.

Between 3000 and 5000 people will be on the local baseball ground a week from tomorrow to witness the first game of the series of five games between the Redwood and San Mateo ball clubs for the championship of the peninsula. Both teams have of late been playing gilt edge ball and that an exciting set of games is about due need not be elaborated upon. In years past the fans have marred the happy termination of these games by crowding on the field with old cans and amid a chaotic state of affairs the games ended leaving a bad impression as to the way matters had gone.

This year the games will not take place unless the players are allowed the unrestricted use of the entire grounds and persons interfering with the game will be politely requested to vacate and keep themselves where they belong. The management of the local club are distributing several thousand posters in surrounding cities to arouse interest in the series, San Mateo doing likewise.

Both managers are working nicely together and if left to them the series while exciting will no doubt redound as a mark of credit to their ability to run matters with fairness and satisfaction to both clubs.

San Mateo tomorrow plays against the Wielands, the club which went down to defeat at our boys hands on Sunday last 14 to 9.

Of course San Mateo will put them away in1-2-3 fashion. The miserable condition of our grounds prevented a close score and as the San Mateoboys have enclosed grounds it is to be expected that they will easily take care of their opponents.

Robert Fox the steady twirler of the home team is back from his vacation, strong and full of confidence in his ability to take care of the San Mateoboys.

Geo. Kriess is at work fitting up the grounds,money to pay him being raised by the local management through the score card advertisements space sold to the local business men who are ever ready to help the boys out. Make no dates for August 1st except at Redwood City ball grounds

Card of Thanks.

Dear friends and neighbors:—Please accept our heartfelt thanks and gratitude for the love and srmpathy shown us in fur time of ditter sorrow.

Prisoners' Little Game Fails.

Within a few hours of being carried to a successful conclusion, an attempted jail break from the county jail was discovered by Chas. Lorton, the jailor Tuesday night. Frank Boland, the ring leader, awaiting trial for trying to rob a blacksmith shop in San Mateo, was placed in a dark cell. Boland had secreted a small piece of steel from his shoe, and out of this he constructed a tiny saw. He was put in prison July 1 and ever since has been working to secure his liberty, sawing at one of the steel bars. The bar was nearly sawed through when Lorton, passing through the cell, discovered the plot. Ten other prisoners would have escaped if the plan had worked successfully. Several of the prisoners are awaiting trial for felony charges.

A Queer Dish.

A great dish at Egyptian harem feasts is that of a lamb roasted whole. After the manner of a nest of Chinese boxes, each smaller than the other, the lamb is stuffed with a whole turkey, the turkey with a chicken, the chicken with a pigeon, the pigeon with a quail and the quail with a becafico, the smallest bird known, except a humming bird. The lamb is roasted over a slow fire until it is almost ready to fall to pieces.

Try This.

GOT THE WHOLE VOTE.

A Pledge That Was Freely Given and That Was Easily Kept.

It is related of a certain candidate for office in a certain Kansas campaign that he billed himself for a speech in a southern Kansas town on a certain October day and wrote ahead to a number of friends there to give him "tips."

One of them told him to see a certain colored man upon his arrival in the town. "If you can get the vote of this negro," wrote the friend, "you can get the vote of the whole negro population in this town. Don't fail to see him and get him to your way of thinking."

About the first thing the candidate did after registering at the hotel was to look up this negro. It was only a little while after the introduction that he was calling the negro by his given name, filling his pockets with cigars, passing him compliments and generally "giving him the taffy." The negro took it all and enjoyed the occasion immensely. The candidate spent several hours in the negro's company and after he thought the proper degree of warmth had been obtained broached the real object of his friendship:

"Say, John, I want the negro vote of this town."

"All right," replied John. "I'll vote fo' you, sah. I'll vote fo' you. I'm fo' you, sah."

"That's all right," said the candidate. "That's all right. I'm sure you will. I'm sure you will. But I want to have the whole negro vote of this town. I want to get all."

"Dat's all right," responded the negro. "I done said I'd vote fo' you. I'm yo' friend. I'll suttinly cast my vote fo' you."

"But, say, John, I know that," said the candidate. "See here, I'll be frank. The fellows told me that you are a big man among the colored folks down here and that if I got your vote I'd get the whole negro vote in this place. Do you catch on?"

"Sho," replied John. "Sho I do. You'll git de whole niggah vote, all right. Dey won't be trouble 'bout dat, sah. You see, I'm de only niggah in dis here whole town."—Mobile Register.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Redwood City People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakeable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days oof suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brick-dust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they cure sick kidneys, and rid the blood of uric poison. If you suffer from any of the aboye symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Redwood City people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. J. H. Bridgewater, living at 210 Jackson st., Redwood City, Cal., says: "I suffered severely from a pain across the small of my back and it was with me no matter what position I assumed. I was also subject to attacks of dizziness and my general health was in a much run down condition. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at P. A. Ryan's drug store and used them according to directions. They proved to be just the remedy I required and before long I was well and strong again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
